

STATE PRESS ON HARGIS' ACQUITTAL

Frankfort Gang Roundly Scored and Remedy Given.

All Know It To Be a Farce and Disgrace And Many So State.

WON'T CHANGE ANYONE'S BELIEF

The Breathitt News, edited by J. Wise Hagins, a leading Democrat of Jackson, concludes an editorial on the acquittal of James Hargis by Scott county jury in the Fayette Circuit Court, as follows:

The people here know of the condition of affairs in Breathitt county during these perilous days of assassinations, and of the causes that led to the assassinations of our citizens. The people here, and throughout the State and country, know who are responsible for these crimes, and while the verdict of this so-called jury (?) will relieve Jimmie of any punishment for this crime by the laws of the State of Kentucky, yet we doubt if the verdict (?) of these twelve men (?) will change the opinion of a single Kentuckian as to his guilt.

There is something rotten in the execution of the laws of Kentucky, which we attribute to the State House gang at Frankfort. We are tired of the domination of the Beckhams, the Hagers, the Dorseys and the Bill Carneses.

If the people of the State will vote the State gang out at the next election, like the people of Breathitt county voted the Breathitt county gang out in 1905, law and order will prevail in Kentucky and in Breathitt county, and it never will till the gang is turned out lock, stock and barrel. The only way to do it is to vote the Republican ticket straight this fall.

Oh, Kentuckians, lay aside your politics and help redeem Kentucky. Hear the Macedonian cry of the people of Breathitt county: "Come over and help us."

SCOTT COUNTY RELIABLES.

If the Honorable Bill Carnes should have any trouble in securing a jury in Sandy Hook next week to try Mr. Britton and his fellow citizens of Breathitt county he can fall back on Scott county that hot-bed of "reliables" jurors, warranted to stand without hitching and to convict Republicans or acquit Democrats without quitting their seats, where the sentiment which would "hang Taylor and damn the Republican party" reigns supreme. —Louisville Herald.

CAN'T RECONCILE CONDITIONS.

"If the same instructions had been given in the trial of Caleb Powers that were given in the trial of Hargis, there could have been no conviction. It may be all right to hang a Republican on less evidence than that on which a Democrat is cleared, but somehow or other we cannot reconcile ourselves to the justice of it." —Sun-Sentinel.

We submit the question to every fair-minded reader, regardless of political affiliation: Is it not a fact that many times more evidence has been introduced to connect James Hargis with a conspiracy to assassinate Jas. Cockrill than was introduced to show that Caleb Powers was in a conspiracy to assassinate Wm. Goebel? —Sun-Sentinel.

UNENVIABLE NOTORIETY.

The notoriety given to Kentucky by crimes committed by persons who may invoke partisan influence to ward off punishment is not enviable. The Hargis infamies have given Kentucky an ill-deserved, infamous name all over the land. Hargis is taken for a typical Kentuckian; Breathitt for a representative Kentucky shire. —Louisville Herald.

AS OTHERS SEE IT.

"In Kentucky court houses are not typical of 'Progress' and 'History.' They are used mainly as ambushes, where armed men of one faction congregated for the unprogressive purpose of shooting down armed or unarmed men of an opposing faction. In Kentucky courthouses are built so as to command an uninterrupted view of the main thoroughfare, and usually the court chambers afford an ideal coign of vantage for the hired assassins to carry out their deadly work." —Rochester Post-Express.

Kind Words From an Old Comrade.

Last week the writer recorded the death of an old army comrade, one who served his country in time of need and his God as a matter of principle and right. This week it becomes the mournful duty to record the death of another. No, not death: "There is no death! What seems so is transition; This life of mortal breath is but a suburb of the life elysian, Whose mortal we call death."

Comrade Woodbury Tinsley has entered through the portals into that life elysian armed and equipped with a record of life well spent, ever faithful to every duty that chance or circumstance entailed upon him.

He was my playmate in boyhood, my companion in arms, my friend at all times. We counted our lessons from the same old book, "elphered" our "sums" together in the shade of the old beech tree; our hopes, our aims, our ambitions were all akin. When the dark clouds of war gathered we for four years shared the fortunes of war together and that comradeship has lasted through all the years of peace since the struggle to preserve the union.

Now he has his discharge and has been transferred to "Fame's eternal camping ground" only as an advanced guard for those of us who are yet to tarry for a brief spell when we, too, will fall into line and rejoin our comrades who have journeyed just before us.

HOUSE A CENTURY OLD FOUND UNDERGROUND.

Unearthed While Opening a Coal Mine is Attracting Wide-Spread Attention.

Recently Mr. J. M. Guy commenced to open a coal bank on Felix Evans' farm, better known as the George Roach place, about one and one-half miles north of Magon, Ohio county. Last Friday afternoon he found about ten feet beneath the earth's surface, a structure which proved to be a log building. It was about ten feet from the opening of the bank which, opening started at a branch, that runs along the foot of a bluff about twenty feet high. From the top of this bank there rises in a southward direction a very large hill. The building was about nine feet in the clear and six feet high, the logs being well notched down and the rafters fastened down with wooden pins, and covered with chestnut boards. The timber was somewhat decayed but in its original position except the door, was off the hinges and lying down. Inside the building, which had a solid floor of slate, the dirt was about a foot deep.

Mr. Guy is now digging around this building so as to move it out of the way of opening his coal bank. The oldest citizens of Magon community who were born and raised there seem to know nothing of this building supposing it to have been built at the foot of the hill perhaps a century ago, and a land slide from the hill covered it up and has kept it hid from view until the present.

This find is quite unusual and is attracting widespread attention. People are flocking to the scene in crowds to view the antiquated building.

Death of Mrs. Royal.

Again death has visited the home of E. M. Royal and took from the circle his beloved wife, Glruda, who departed this life, May the 19th. Her death was very sudden and unexpected. She had been in poor health for some time but had only been confined to her bed for about a week and had not been considered dangerously sick. She was a daughter of Capt. Benjamin Duval. She was raised near Select, Ohio county. She was twice married, her first husband was S. M. Royal, to this union were born three sons, two of whom are still living. One died when he was small. She was married to M. E. Royal, July 12, 1892. To this union were born four children two sons and two daughters, of those two sons, one a baby of two years and one daughter survives her. Also her aged mother, who is in feeble health.

After funeral services by Elder R. J. Brandon at Friendship church of Christ she was laid to rest beside her little girl who preceded her fourteen months. We sympathize with the bereaved family.

WHEAT'S ADVANCE ACCOUNTED FOR Views of Those Who Look From Different Viewpoints.

Vast Amount of Wheat in Elevators and High Price Purely Speculative.

The rapid advance in wheat at the present time, which may be termed the eve of the wheat harvest, is a matter of such unusualness that it is interesting the attention of the best students of farm product markets as well as the students of farmer organizations. To the student of both there is rich food for thought in the wide divergence of reasons given by these different students when they give their views of the reasons why the price of wheat is advancing so rapidly at this time.

S. B. Lee, prominent A. S. of E. man and national secretary of the Tobacco Growers' association, says the price has been advanced by the wheat trust in anticipation of the National Grain Growers' association, to be held at Omaha on June 5, 6, and 7. He says the trust magnates know that the result of the meeting will be a general agreement of the growers to pool the 1907 crop of wheat and that the result will be a rapid advance and that these magnates are advancing the price in order to get the credit of the advance, and to rob the farmer organization of the good effect of having produced the advance.

The elevator men at St. Louis and Chicago, say that the price has advanced because of the unfavorable weather and the damages done by the bugs and other causes which will surely cut the crop short.

The mill men say the price is going up purely as a speculative matter with the elevator men who have gotten into the elevators much more wheat than ever before at this time of the year and they are forcing the price up in the belief that the mill men can be forced to buy at once or before the harvest of the new wheat, and thus they will realize immense profits.

A local miller in discussing the matter, said there was 200,000 more bushels of wheat in the St. Louis elevators and many more thousands of bushels more in the Chicago elevators than at the same time last year. The estimate of No. 2 red wheat in the Chicago elevators is 16,000,000 bushels. This is unprecedented for the season. —Owensboro Inquirer.

A Great Day For Equity.

According to appointment Hartford Magisterial district union, A. S. of E. met with Union Local Saturday, May 26, 1907. At about 9 o'clock the people began to pour in which continued until about 11 a. m. by which time the house was packed to overflowing and our president still being absent the house was called to order and the Hon. C. S. Taylor was chosen temporary chairman. After a few well chosen words by him, the following named were appointed as a committee on resolutions: C. S. Taylor, S. A. Reynolds and Jas. McSheery. After some good talks by several of the members the noon hour was announced and a most bountiful dinner was spread by the good wives and daughters of the neighborhood, and all was invited to partake of the many good things prepared by them. Promptly at 1 o'clock the house was called to order by the chairman and the committee on resolutions being ready to report the following resolutions were read and discussed thoroughly and adopted.

We your committee on resolutions wish to submit the following:

1. We heartily approve of the plan by which the U. M. W. of A. and the A. S. of E. propose to co-operate together for the purpose of establishing a gold storage plant or exchange to be located at McHenry, Ky.

2. We would further suggest or advise that inasmuch as the farmers are the heaviest tax payers in the county, that the present system of road working is both inadequate and unfair that we through the A. S. of E. ask the Fiscal Court through the provisions made by the Legislature several years ago to work the roads of the county by taxation.

3. Be it further resolved, That we as a body extend to the good women of the neighborhood our heartfelt thanks for their presence and for that good dinner that we so much enjoyed.

The following were appointed as delegates to meet with the U. M. W. of A. and the A. S. of E. which meets at McHenry Saturday, June 1, 1907: R. S. Jackson, Joe Hocker, Robt. Liles, Sam Fogle, S. J. BELIEVED THAT HE WAS DROWNED

Clothes Found on Bank of Rough Creek.

Mat Johnson Attempted to Swim Across Stream to Procure Boat.

On last Sunday afternoon Mat Johnson, a prominent log man and farmer, of Magon, left his home stating that he was going to his sister's, Mrs. Jas. Sogner, who lives near the locks on Rough creek. He did go there and leaving his buggy and horse crossed the creek to his brother's, Ed Johnson. He left Ed Johnson's late Monday afternoon stating that he was going back to his sisters. The next morning Ed Johnson called Mrs. Sogner over the phone and inquired where Mat was. Mrs. Sogner stated that she had not seen him since he left her home on the previous day, whereupon Ed Johnson hurried to the creek, where he found his brother's clothing and saw his bare foot prints leading into the water. It is supposed that Johnson attempted to swim the creek to get a boat to cross in and that he was drowned in the attempt. The creek has been dragged continually since Tuesday morning but the body has not yet been recovered.

There are various rumors afloat concerning Mr. Johnson's disappearance. One is to the effect that on leaving Ed Johnson's Monday evening he went to where Harve Condit is hatching on the creek and took supper with him and while there asked Condit all about his travels in the West and took numerous notes relative thereto writing same in a small book which he took from his pocket. It is reported that when the clothes were found the book was in his pocket but the leaf on which he had made the notes were gone. It is also stated that his watch was not in his clothing and only a small sum of money was found when it was supposed that he had something near $100. Some believe that he left his clothes as they were found, crossed the creek and dressed in another suit and went off. But a majority of the people yet believe that he drowned in an effort to swim the creek.

Succumbs to Lingering Illness.

Mrs. Margaret Taylor, wife of the late Thomas Taylor, died at her home in Hartford late Monday afternoon of tuberculosis and troubles incident to old age. Rev. J. A. Lewis, who conducted the funeral services, furnished as the following account of her life and death:

Margaret Young Davis, daughter of Thos. Y. Davis and Hester Ann Davis, was born September 6, 1844 in Nelson county Kentucky.

She was baptized by Rev. James Holding, August 1845. She professed religion when a little girl and joined the Methodist church. She received her education at Bloomfield and Chaplin in Nelson county.

She was united in marriage to Thos. Taylor in the spring 1876, with whom she lived until August 1904 when he passed on before. She had been in delicate health for 30 years, frequently a sufferer, but for the last year she had been in a steady decline growing more and more feeble with frequent bad attacks until the end came at 6:30 p. m., May 27. She was a devoted but quiet christian, with a blessed experience. For 18 months I never found her in darkness or doubt. She read her bible closely, marking the many passages which impressed her mind and comforted her heart. She loved her church and regretted to be deprived of the privileges of the sanctuary. She never allowed her pastor to leave without reading the scripture and prayer. Her talks were sweetly assuring full of faith and hope, she was perfectly resigned.

A good, modest, meek christian woman, who delighted "to sit at Jesus feet and hear his word" has left us, left us as she said, for the peace where the many mansions are prepared. We believe she is at home at last.

Her death was gentle, "So fades a summer cloud away So sinks the gale along the shore And gently shuts the eye of day,

So dies a wave along the shore"

He giveth His blessed sleep. Mrs. Taylor left a will disposing of her estate valued at about $6,000, and it has been reported that she devised a nice sum probably $600 or $700 to the Hartford Methodist church.

A Happy Surprise.

Your humble scribe has been requested to send some mention to your valuable paper of a pleasant event which occurred at the home of Mr. R. L. Liles near Cromwell on Sunday, May 26th, it being the 63rd birthday of Mrs. R. L. Liles.

This honored couple have ten living children eight of whom were present with their families. Having provided themselves with a liberal supply of choice edibles and quite a number of nice and valuable presents for mother and father. They met at the old homestead in a body without previous notice.

The day was spent in merry making by both old and young interspersed with music and a few amusing games one of which offered considerable amusement being a prize contest in a potato race. Robert L. Liles and W. T. Austin were the successful contestants. A drawing contest by the children, Ronda Sandefur being the successful one. Children present were, Mrs. W. M. Baldwin and family, Mrs. W. N. Miller and family, Mrs. W. T. Austin and family, Mrs. F. L. Sandefur and family, Mr. R. L. Taylor and family; Messrs. Henry, Luther and Cland Liles. Neighbors and friends present during the day: J. W. Coleman and wife, Warren Taylor and family, Mrs. Laura Liles, Melve Liles, Ervan Miller and little sister, Tom Phigly, Tom Johnson and son, Ed Coleman, E. E. Rogers and wife, Mrs. J. J. Jackson, Mrs. Mary C. Baldwin; total number 35.

Dinner was served in a nice shade in the yard by the children from their well filled baskets and here around the festive board representing three generations were fifty merry hearts attuned by love to beat as one. Here the aged mother and father could look upon their darlings, their loved ones for whom they had spent their lives. Here daughters and sons had met to give some expression of the respect honor and love of their hearts for father and mother; grandchildren were here in honor of the occasion making merry on every hand. The angels might look upon with approving smile this a faint picture of that final reunion just across the way in the Promised Land. Think of it, dear reader, do you want to be in a family reunion with grandma, grandpa, father and mother, sister and brother, neighbors and friends and one that shall last forever? If you have not already, go to Jesus and get him to write your name in the book of life that when the roll is called your name will appear. Rev. 20:15. To those who have never tried it I would say if you want to spend a happy day one time in life, have a family reunion. It will do you good.

CORPSE AS SECURITY FOR BOARD

When Landlady Asks Tenants for What They Owe.

They Tell Her Their Baggage Will Secure it and Murder is Revealed When Lock is Forced.

New York, May 26.—The Rev. Father Kasper, of the Armenian Apostolic church, of Hoboken, N. J., was murdered in this city some time last week. The body was found in a trunk which had been left as security for their room rent by two Greeks, who, three weeks ago, engaged a furnished room of Mrs. Henry Sherer, who occupies the third floor of a tenement at 332 West Thirty-seventh street. When last Wednesday the rent was not forthcoming, her lodgers, the two Greeks, told her that she was amply secured by their well-filled trunk.

The following morning the men disappeared, and to-day the trunk was broken open. To the horror of Mrs. Sherer, it was found to contain the badly decomposed body of a man, believed to have been a priest of the Greek church.

The body was in a kneeling posture, with the head bound against the knees by a heavy strap that passed over the back of the neck, and was buckled under the shins. The murdered man must have been about sixty years of age. A flowing beard, twelve inches long, was streaked with gray, but the long and bushy hair was black. An undershirt of beige and a cuff on the right wrist were all the body wore, but on top of it had been thrown three coats of clerical cut, a white bandaged shirt, two pairs of black hose, a soft felt hat, two Roman collars and a detached cuff.

The police think it possible that the body was shipped here by express from Chicago, and the authorities to that city have been asked to follow one clue, based on a meal ticket also found in the trunk. This ticket was issued by a restaurant at 1222 Halstead street, West Pullman, Chicago.

Because of the condition of the body the manner of death was not immediately apparent. Following an autopsy at the morgue, two men were arrested on suspicion. Mrs. Sherer told the coroner's jury that when the men engaged the room in their home they described themselves as John and Paul Shanks, each about thirty-five years of age. The men had been visited, she said, by a man wearing a clerical garb, who looked not unlike the murdered man. She thought that this man called at 8 o'clock last Wednesday morning.

"I have here a new letter opener," he said, "a handsome article, to be put on the table in your library, and—"

"I have the best letter opener and the quickest," interrupted Mr. Howard, without turning his head.

"How long have you had it?" persisted the agent. "You know there are constant improvements."

"There's no need for improving mine," responded the writer. "I've had her about 2 years—anniversary comes next month."

THE RELATION OF EDITORS AND DOCTORS.

A Spicy Comparison of The Two Great Professions by One of The Former.

In reply to the charge of a dignified but somewhat narrow-minded pill-peddler, that "newspapers were run for revenue only," a rural rooster of the newspaper profession comes back with: "What in the thunder do doctors run for, anyway? Do they run for glory? One good healthy doctor's bill would run this office six months. An editor works a half day for three dollars, with an investment of $3,000; a doctor looks wise and works ten minutes for two dollars, with an investment of three cents for camp and a pill bag that cost $1.37. A doctor goes to college for two or three years, gets a diploma and a string of words the devil himself can not pronounce, cultivates a look of gravity that he palms off for wisdom, gets a box of pills, a cayuse and a meat saw and sticks out his shingle, a full-fledged doctor. He will then doctor you until you die at a stipulated price per visit, and puts them in as thick as your pocketbook will permit.

"An editor never gets his education finished; he learns as long as he lives, and studies all his life. He eats bran, mush and liver, he takes his pay in hay and turnips, and keeps the doctor in town by refraining from printing the truth about him. We would like to live in the doctor's town and run a newspaper six months and see if the doctor would change his mind about our 'running a newspaper for revenue only.' If we didn't get some glory out of it, he would take one dose of his pills, after first saying our prayers.

"If the editor makes a mistake he has to apologize for it, but if the doctor makes a mistake he buries it. If we make one there is a law suit, all swearing and smell of sulphur, but if the doctor makes one, there is a funeral, cut flowers and a smell of varnish. The doctor can use a word a foot long, but if the editor uses it he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he will charge the man for the visit; if the editor calls on another man's wife he gets a charge of buckshot. Any medical college can make a doctor. You can't make an editor; he has to be born one. When a doctor gets drunk, it is a case of 'overcome by heat,' and if he dies it is a heart failure. When an editor gets drunk, it is too much booze, and if he dies it is a case of 'he is glad if he can collect his bills.' 'The editor works to keep from starving, while the doctor works to ward off the gout. The editor helps men to live better, and the doctor assists them to die easy. The doctor pulls the sick man's leg, the editor pulls the sick man's leg, the editor at all. Revenue only? We are only at all. Revenue only? We are only living for fun and to spill the doctors.'—Exchange.

BUSINESS COLLEGES ARE FAILURES

In small cities and towns, because:

1. There is not a sufficient population to support a GOOD school;
2. Such schools are usually conducted by persons who are NOT qualified, or who make it a practice to travel about and defraud their patrons;
3. There are few if any opportunities for their graduates to secure employment in such localities;
4. The THOROUGH business colleges are located in the larger cities and are conducted by persons who are qualified;
5. The graduates of business colleges in small cities or towns can not secure employment in large cities when thrown in competition with the THOROUGH graduates of high-class schools, as business men have no time to experiment with incompetents.

Therefore, be wise. Send for the finest college catalogue ever issued by a commercial school, before deciding to throw away your money for a worthless training at some cheap school.

FAIRBANKS' BOOM IN CLEVER HANDS.

Candidacy of Vice President is Not Hampered.

Indiana Man Stands Well East and West Because of Diplomacy in Politics.

Vice President Fairbanks' friends, not only in Indiana but in other states are pointing to the fact that he has the delegation from his own state beyond dispute. This is something which is not so true of the home state of any of the other presidential possibilities. This means a great deal in the game of national politics, for the candidate is left absolutely free to cultivate friends in other states.

Hughes has a had fight on his hands in New York. Taft and Foraker are still scrapping it out in Ohio. Cummins and the stand-patters in Iowa will never cease from troubling him in Indiana all is peace. Apparently everybody works but Fairbanks. In point of fact, the Vice President really has the only national magazine which has yet made itself apparent among the Republicans. Yet the Fairbanks people have kept away from favorite sons. They have kept on good terms with Cannon in Illinois, and it cannot be said that they have maliciously interfered with Taft in Ohio, Hughes in New York, or Cummins in Iowa.

Some skillful hand has been behind the Fairbanks movement, for in half a dozen states the Vice-President has wisely avoided taking part with one faction or the other. This persistent, clever work, so much of it under the surface, with its absence of entanglements, is sure to tell in the long run, and it is this thing which makes the Vice-President so strong a possibility in the presidential race in 1908.

Wherever this genius for political organization comes from, it does not originate with the Vice-President himself. He seldom or never talks personal politics, even with his best friends. Recently, when the Vice-President visited Iowa, he was entertained at the home of Gov. Cummins.

"And you know," said the governor to me in some surprise, "the Vice-President never opened his mouth about politics while he was my guest."

The same thing always has been true to Washington. Most of the other presidential candidates were at least willing to joke about their own chances. Not so with the Vice-President. He dodged a direct inquiry every time, and many of his intimate friends have been entirely unable to secure from him the positive declaration that he wanted their help in the next Republican national convention.

There is no more familiar figure on the streets of Washington than that of the tall, vigorous, fresh colored, and well kept Vice-President. Yet he has no camp followers, no hangers-on, no political heelers. He has made friends indiscriminately in the senate, both Democrats and Republicans, and he is intensely popular, but not at all in a political way. Everybody in Washington talks about the Fairbanks machine, but there are precious few who can say that they have heard the wheels go round.

This curious political condition is equally noticeable here in Indianapolis. One naturally would expect to find the Vice-President's home city a semi-public organization, created and managed for the express purpose of booting him for the presidency. Yet one can find nothing half so strenuous as the Taft organization at Columbus and Cincinnati.

Indiana is quietly and certainly for Fairbanks. The tall Senator had a machine of his own long ago, and it is so well oiled and adjusted it works without attracting much outside attention. It is probable Taft could come into Indiana and make a lot of trouble for Fairbanks. In fact, some of the Taft people have been urged to start just such a fire across the Indiana line. Thus far they have been too busy in Ohio to get far beyond their own State. If they were to trespass in Indiana it is more than likely the Fairbanks machine would display some reactionary activity in Ohio, whereas up to the present time the vice president has done nothing either to help or hinder Foraker and Taft in their internecine battle.

The Vice President is frequently rated as a reactionary, and it has been alleged that great railroads and corporation interests are behind him. That may be true, but it must be remembered that during the whole Roosevelt administration the President's policies have been constantly supported by the Vice President. In no case that I can remember did he antagonize the railroad bill, pure food measure, meat inspection law, or any other of the important legislative policies of the administration.

There is scarcely a doubt that if some sudden fatalities had removed President Roosevelt during the last

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of the ingredients composing it is printed there in plain English. Forty years of experience has proven its superior worth as a blood purifier and invigorating tonic for the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up the run-down system as no other tonic can, in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as Golden Seal and Queen's root, Stone and Mandrake root, Bloodroot and Black Cherry bark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia, as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

"The Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores on the face are cured and healed. In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing to apply to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have this Salve in stock, send fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Legislative session the work would have been taken up in the same spirit by Vice-President Fairbanks. If he had been called suddenly to the White House.

Like McKinley, whose close friend he was for years Vice President Fairbanks' political policy has been invariably to meet the popular demands on any public question. He is slow to give opinion, thinks deliberately, and is not the kind of man to lead a cavalry charge against the enemy with his trusty sword flashing over his head, as swords have a way of doing in pictures, but in pictures only. Yet Fairbanks, with those long legs of his and the strength he has derived from his really simple life, would he pretty sure to be up with the advance guard every night when the tents were pitched. He is that kind of a conservative, as I understand the man. He does not like buttermilk and he does not smoke and drink strong beverages.

A man of simple habits, extremely sociable, generally popular with all his associates, capable of continued hard work, but always apparently with time to see those who call on him, the Vice President impresses one as being one of the best "mixers" in the country. That he is as astute a political general as he is generally credited with being, and that he has a silent, mysterious force working day and night in his behalf, is not so easily to imagine.—By Raymond.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mount City, in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine, that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by all druggists. 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Their Knowledge of Scripture.

Col. John Cosgrove, afterward congressman, defending a client accused of some crime, in an eloquent climax shouted: "What does the State's attorney expect? Does he expect my client, like Daniel, to command the sun to stand still and have it obey?" Judge James W. Draffen, lawyer for the opposition, interrupted: "May I please your honor," he said, addressing Judge James E. Hazell, who was on the bench, "I object to Col. Cosgrove's misquoting Scripture." "I beg pardon," hadly replied Col. Cosgrove; "I forgot for the moment that it was not Daniel, but Solomon, who commanded the sun to stand still."

SIX BARRELS AND THREE MEN CAPTURED.

Marshal Doriot Makes a Good
Coup of Whisky and men at Livermore.

With a suspicion that something was happening or going to happen Marshal Doriot stayed out rather late Thursday night and was amply rewarded for his trouble by succeeding in capturing a wagon load of whisky, containing six barrels, and three men who had it in charge.

Some how Marshal Doriot found out that there was to be such a load of whisky brought into our city and was on the watch out for it. In the meantime Mr. Doriot awoke the City Attorney, Mr. Bonner, and had secured Messrs. Silas Shaver and Wallace King for deputies and the watch began. There was a long and tedious wait after all the city was wrapped in silence, but nothing daunted our efficient marshal and his deputies kept constantly on the watch for any sign of the cargo's arrival. At about two o'clock in the early morning the faint sound of rattling chains and the nearly indistinct rumble of a wagon was heard.

The Marshal and his deputies started out to capture the outfit. He had not gone many steps when Mr. Hewitt Young met him and spoke. Mr. Doriot remarked that he had him in a very tight place and asked why. Mr. Doriot did not reply, but walked on and threw his gun down on the men in charge of the wagon. Gordon Pierce was in charge and Will Collinsworth was with him.

They were all much scared and Hewitt Young offered to do nearly anything if the marshal would turn them loose. He even offered to pay Mr. Doriot well if he would drop the matter, but he would not listen to it. The deputies examined the cargo and found that there were four barrels of whisky in bottles and two barrels. Young and the others acknowledged that it was whisky also.—Kentucky Citizen.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience; he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth, blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five prescribed." Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by all druggists, 50c.

Soldier Boy.

Dear friends:—As several of the boys are writing a letter to the home paper, I will write a short letter to all of my friends. I have been stationed at Ft. Monroe some over two years. We have eight companies here, including a torpedo company, to which I belong. Ft. Monroe is a nice situation, I never have been dissatisfied since I arrived here. We have a nice summer resort near the reservation and guests come here from all States to attend the summer resort, and for their health. We are stationed on Chesapeake Bay and is an excellent place. I have been in the 55th Co. Coast Artillery some over two years, will be glad when I can come back to old Kentucky and tell my friends of the beautiful scenery I have seen since I have been in the service.

I very often think of the past, the good old times I have seen in Ohio county, and would be glad to meet my old friends, though I don't think I will ever be satisfied back in the grounds of Kentucky. I think it is very beautiful to be a nephew of Uncle Sam. I will say to the two young ladies who will win the race to attend the Jamestown exposition and the party that accompanies them here, I will be very glad to meet you here. It is only a short distance from my post to the exposition grounds. I have attended the grounds quite a few times. I presume you will visit our post before you go back to Kentucky and I will take interest in showing you all of the scenery of old Point Comfort. We have several 12 inch guns here. They shoot a thousand pound projectile, and we also have the 10, 8 and three inch guns and they are a beautiful scene to any one that was never around a military post. We also have the torpedos, which we plant out in the bay and when a ship strikes them they explode. I will be glad to meet the candidates and also the party accompanying them and will do my best to show you all of the scenery here.

I believe the best time for you to make the trip would be along the last of September or the first of October. They have not got the buildings all completed yet. The Kentucky building is a nice building, is a beautiful log cabin made of pine logs. I will say I will be glad to meet any of the Ohio county people there.

Respectfully yours,
OWEN DUVAL,
Ft. Monroe, Va.

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four dozen of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25c. Declaration Day.

"And this day shall be unto you for a memorial."—Exodus XII., 14. The day that is meant for quiet, except that is set apart. To show all the love and honor that throb in the nation's heart; To show that we still hold sacred their hope, and their faith, and trust. By placing the tender tribute of roses above their dust.

The day that is meant for grief, except that the muffled drum Shall thrum to the whispered fife that tells when the marches come. Except that the soft-voiced bugle Shall sing of the growing gaps In the ranks of the living comrades—that lullaby low of "Taps."

The day that is meant for silence; a day that is meant for thought: The flag as a sign and symbol of that these dead have wrought; And roses and waxen lilies, adrip with the dew of dawn; To gleam in the silent places where slumber the soldiers gone.

This day—it is meant for stillness, for stillness on land and sea; For hushes on hill, in valley—wherever their places be; For some rest below the billows and some sleep beneath the sod, But all have a country's honor, and all have the peace of God.

A Wonderful Waiter.

"Our new chef," said the manager of the restaurant, stopping to chat with the patron who had deep lines between his eyebrows, "is a wonder. I really believe the man could take an old rubber shoe and make an appetizing dish of it." "That so?" asked the patron, tapping meditatively with his fork upon the steak that had been served him. Suppose you tell the waiter to take this steak back and ask the chef to fix up a rubber shoe for me."—Modern Society.

A Dangerous Deadlock.

Position for Young Men.

No worthy, competent young man need be without remunerative employment in these days of unprecedented prosperity. The Business University at Bowling Green, Ky., announces that it can not furnish even half as many bookkeepers as it is asked to supply and yet this institution prepares perhaps more bookkeepers than any other school in the South. Now is the time for young men to get into permanent business.

W.L. DOUGLAS

UNION MADE $3.50 SHOES FOR MEN
W. L. Douglas never cheapens his shoes.

While the high price of leather will make it impractical for other manufacturers to provide as good shoes as formerly, W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes will continue to afford those excellent styles, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities that have resulted in the largest sale of any $3.50 shoe in the world.

This will make it especially desirable for those who have never tried W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes to wear them this season, and thus prove that they are better than any other $3.50 shoes and equal to footwear ordinarily sold at much higher prices. While such action by W. L. Douglas must of necessity impair profits, yet he is certain that the increased business which it assures will prove the wisdom of such action.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce W. W. PARK of the Buda Precinct, a candidate for Representative in the General Assembly from this, the 26th district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce DR. JAMES A. DUFF, of Sulphur Springs precinct, a candidate to represent Ohio county, in the next House of Representatives. Subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce JUDGE D. BAKER RHODES, of Beaver Dam, as a candidate to represent Ohio county in the next House of Representatives, subject to the Republican Convention to be held June 5th, and 15th, next.

Examine the label on your paper, if it is not correct notify us.

Our Commencement edition, last week, was appreciated by friends of Hartford College everywhere.

Instead of the gallows or the penitentiary, Hargis may yet be the nominee of his party for Governor.

Our Democratic friends are "beating the bushes" in all directions for a Presidential candidate with whom to side-track Mr. Bryan. So far they have only flushed such as have easily gone through the netting.

With Louisville Machine Democracy laboring under the terrible stigma placed upon it by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, the Republicans should have no trouble in electing all the City officers this fall. However, the city Democrats can usually depend upon the Republicans acting the fool.

at the right time, to help them out of all difficulties.

The death of Mrs. William McKinley at Canton, Ohio, this week, calls to mind the public services of her distinguished husband, and the tender loving devotion which he always showed toward an invalid wife. No President ever worked his way quite so deep into the real affections of the people. The present occupant of the White House, enjoys a wide, spectacular popularity, but not one American in ten would prefer the qualities which produce it, to the quiet, dignified, sympathetic disposition toward all mankind, which were the characteristics of William McKinley.

Many of our Democratic subscribers have complimented us upon the fair manner in which we treated the Democratic convention last week. It will be ever thus, as long as the present management runs this paper. We do not believe in misrepresentation or vilification. Neither do we expect our party to succeed wholly on the demerits of our opponents. We expect Republicans to stand for something, and our officers, when intrusted with power, to prove themselves worthy, by adherence to principle and devotion to public duty. This paper is no "yaller dog" journal. There is no collar about our neck, and we shall not only refrain from unjust and needless censure of our opponents, but shall not hesitate to point out mistakes of our own folks, as they may occur to us. This strikes us as the only manly course to be maintained by a newspaper which expects to retain its self-respect.

A RIGHTEOUS VERDICT.

The result of the trial in the case of Ernest M. Woodward against the Owensboro Messenger Publishing Co., last Saturday was most satisfactory to the people of Ohio county, and a well deserved vindication of a young man who had been treated unfairly by that paper. As a rule we do not endorse libel suits, and most especially do we condemn efforts to throttle the press in this way, but when a paper has done a great wrong, as in this instance by a slanderous publication, it ought to be more than willing to make prompt and complete retraction. Even then it can never wholly undo the injury. This suit would never have been brought had the Messenger been willing to do this. Even after the suit was ready for trial, it could have been settled by the paper paying a nominal attorney's fee and printing a retraction. This its attorneys saw fit to refuse.

There is little doubt that the Messenger will eventually have to pay every dollar of the $2,500 judgment, as there were no errors against it during the trial. In fact, every doubtful point was construed against the plaintiff, Mr. Woodward, and there would seem to be no reason which the Court of Appeals could find for reversal.

A similar suit against the Owensboro Inquirer was dismissed when that paper published, some time ago, a complete vindication of Woodward and DeWeese.

The case of James DeWeese against the Messenger is yet to be tried. It is identical with the other, and there is no doubt but what a jury will give him a substantial verdict, if it ever goes to trial.

Messrs. Woodward and DeWeese have both announced that they will donate to some public use every dollar which they may recover, above attorneys' fees and costs. This relieves them from any suspicion that they are merely out on a money hunt, and show to the world that they are in good faith seeking vindication of character.

The jury which tried Woodward's case was composed of the very best citizens of Ohio county, and politically stood 9 Democrats, and 3 Republicans.

LOOKS BLUE FOR THE SOLDIER BOYS.

Encampment May Not be Held at Jamestown Exposition as Before Announced.

It is hardly probable that the Kentucky State Guard will encamp at Jamestown Exposition this year. Assistant Adjutant General Mervin Parent has made this announcement. He says that the lowest rate for transportation of the soldier boys made by the railroads is so much higher than expected and funds at the disposal of the State War Department so short that the proposed trip will probably have to be given up.

This announcement will cause much disappointment among military circles in the State, as many fond hopes were built on this projected summer outing, which has been a great stimulus toward attention to drills and other company work on the part of the rank and file. However, all hope has not yet been abandoned.

Notice to Road Overseers.

The time limit fixed by me under direction of the Fiscal Court for all public roads in Ohio county to be put in good condition for travel will expire on July 6. Some overseers have put their roads in fair condition but some have utterly failed. I have been very lenient with the defaulting ones but as I am held responsible for the condition of the roads I must insist that every overseer, who has not done so, proceed at once to put their road in good condition. Upon your failure to do this I shall be compelled to report you to the County Attorney whose duty it will be to prosecute you for such failure. G. A. RALPH, Road and Bridge Com. Hartford, Ky.

Good Either Way.

A traveler lately returned from Ireland has a story illustrating the ready wit of the Irishmen. An old gardener, meeting his employer, touched his finger to the tip of his cap and said: "Good morning, yer Honor; Oi had a fine frame of ye last night."

"Indeed, Michael!" remarked the employer. "What was the dream?"

"Oi dreamed that ye gave me a fine box o' tobacco, an' thot her ladyship, yer honored wife, gave ma humble wife a can o' th' best tay."

"Ah, Michael, but you know dreams always go by contraries."

"Thin," said Michael, "may be ye'll be after givin' me wife th' tobacco an' her ladyship 'll give me th' tay."—Harper's Weekly.

COLD WATER BATHS BELOW ZERO.

Taken After Breaking Ice by a Man Ninety-Three Years Old.

Those people who take chilly out-of-season dips in the ocean at various points along the Jersey coast, notably at Cape May and Atlantic City, where the newgatherers are thickest, will hardly attempt to equal the record of William T. Hamilton, living near Columbus, Mont., who, at the age of 93, goes out every winter morning with an ax and breaks the ice in the Yellowstone river to take a bath.

Hamilton is known all over that section as a scout, Indian fighter and trapper. To the white people he is "Uncle Bill"; to the Indians, "Crooked Nose." He was born in the State of Maine, but went west when a boy. He served as a scout for the soldiers as early as 1876-77-78, under Capt. Clark, Gen. Miles and other famous Indian fighters, and was in the battle of Little Big Horn.

Even when the mercury stands at 30 degrees below zero Uncle Bill does not. It is declared, forego his morning bath in the Yellowstone. He lives in a cabin which he built himself, and still goes out to hunt. He is fairly well fixed—as the expression goes in Montana—in this world's goods. When he recently sent some pictures of himself to a friend in the city who knew him and has hunted with him, he said: "The latching string hangs outside of my door. When riding the grub line stop in and feed."

Make a note now to get Ely's Cream Balm if you are troubled with nasal catarrh, hay fever or cold in head. It is purifying and soothing to the sensitive membranes that line the air-passages. It is made to cure the disease, not to fool the patient by a short, deceptive relief. There is no cocaine nor mercury in it. Do not be talked into taking a substitute for Ely's Cream Balm. All druggists sell it. Price 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

No Wonder.

Recently a Washingtonian in conversation with "Ollie" James, the gigantic and genial congressman from Kentucky, made certain inquiries with reference to a mutual friend whom he had not seen for a number of years—a Col. P. of the State mentioned.

"And how does my old friend, the colonel, spend his declining years?" asked the Washingtonian.

"Beautifully, sir, beautifully," answered James. "He has a fine farm, sir. And a string of trotters, sir. And a barrel of whiskey 16 years old, and a wife of the same age, sir."—Lippincott's Magazine.

HAUTES Stallion

The Imported Thoroughbred

Will make the remainder of the season 1907 at S. D. Myres Monday, Hartford Fair grounds Tuesday and Wednesday and at Centertown Thursday, Friday and Saturday, for the nominal sum of $10.00 to insure live colt, money due when fact is ascertained or mare parted with. This is a Stallion of fine blood, good confirmation, splendid disposition, in short, he is a fine individual stands 15½ hands high and is a rich bay with black main and tail and only 4 years old. Has splendid set of black legs, fine eyes, beautiful head and ear. This fine horse was sent to the Centertown Live Stock Co., by the Kentucky Breeding Bureau for the purpose of improving the breed of horses in Kentucky. To restore the standard of breeding to the high reputation that Kentucky has always held for fine and well bred horses. What Mr. Shouse, Secretary of Kentucky Breeding Bureau, says in his letter to the Centertown Live Stock Co:

Gentlemen: The horse we are sending is a four-year-old Bay Hautes. Presented to the Kentucky Breeding Bureau by the Hon. August Belmont of New York. He was brought to this country at the foot of his dam, Imported Hautesse by Archiduc and for the mare and colt Mr. Belmont paid $25,000 at public auction. Ladass, the sire of Hunter is one of the foremost sires of England at the present time. The horse is a splendid individual and there is none better bred in America. Indeed on Breeding alone, he is well worthy a trial at the stud by any breeder of thoroughbred stock in the entire country.

Yours Respectfully,
JULETT SHOUSE, Sec.

We would be glad to have you call and see for your self and if you are satisfied with our stock and its breeding we will be delighted to do business with you. are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Kodol For Dyspepsia

digests what you eat, takes the strain off of the heart, and contributes nourishment, strength and health to every organ of the body. For Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the Stomach and Digestive Tract, Nervous Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach.

After eating, my food would distress me by making my heart palpitate and I would become very weak. Finally I got a bottle of Kodol and it gave me immediate relief. After using a few bottles I am cured.

CANTRILL RESIGNS APPELLATE JUDGESHIP

Incapitated Member Finally Gives
points Another.

Frankfort, Ky., May 28.—The resignation of Appellate Court Judge James E. Cantrill was received at the office of Governor Beckham this morning and accepted. The Governor immediately appointing Judge John D. Carroll, of Henry county, to serve in Judge Cantrill's place. The latter in resigning sent the Governor a statement declaring that he had taken the step on account of continued ill health.

Judge Carroll, his successor, is one of the best known lawyers in the State and was defeated by Judge Cantrill for the Democratic nomination. He was chosen Commissioner of the Court of Appeals, an office created by the last Legislature in order to aid the Appellate Court, which had been overworked since the illness of Judge Cantrill, who has not sat on the bench more than once or twice during his term. The office of Commissioner can be filled or left vacant at the discretion of the Appellate Court Judges, and as there will now be a full bench it is certain that there will be no appointment made and the place will be practically done away with.

An election to name a successor will be held in November, and it is believed Judge Carroll will have no opposition.
